

Dear Authors of Compumag 2011 Sydney,

Thank you for your contribution to Compumag2011, Sydney.

The website of IEEE Manuscript Central (MC), <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/magconf-ieee>, is now open for COMPUMAG2011 full paper submission.

Please make sure to submit your full paper(s) by 1 July 2011.

If you have not already an account in the MC, please create one by signing in as a new user of the MC. When you input the conference paper number, the ID must be furnished with the prefix CMP; for instance, if your paper ID is 154 (this is equal to the digest number), type CMP-154.

When submitting your full papers, please follow the following instructions carefully:

- (a) The only site where the papers for the conference may be submitted to us is <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/magconf-ieee>. Submitting a paper on any of our other sites will delay, and may prevent, its being sent for review in conjunction with the conference.
- (b) Authors who already have an account on any of our sites (regular TMAG, MAGCON, or Magnetics Letters) should not create a new one to submit the paper. The same login information applies to all the sites. Creating multiple accounts will only cause confusion and will delay the review process for the paper.
- (c) After logging in, authors should go to the Author Center and follow the instructions there to submit the paper. On the first submission screen they should expect to provide 2 items of information particular to the conference: (i) For "Manuscript Type", choose "Compumag 2011"; (ii) For "Conference Paper Number", enter the number manually as instructed, in the form "CMP-###".
- (d) Authors should make certain to follow the submission sequence all the way through to the end, where they will see a confirmation message and receive an e-mail. Uploading the manuscript file alone does not complete the process.
- (e) Authors should wait until they are certain they have a final, correct version of the manuscript before submitting. They should not submit the same paper more than once; doing so will cause confusion and delay the processing of the paper. Neither IEEE nor the conference staff can upload files or complete a submission for the author.

Thank you for your contribution and assistance, and we look forward to seeing you at Compumag2011, Sydney.
